New websites within the UN system

Redesigned Website of the United Nations

<http://www.un.org>

The redesigned UN website has been launched by DPI on 4 May 2009 in the 6 UN languages with a new structure, improved navigation and usability, and greater coherence. The site introduces a new branding concept and embodies the Organization's priorities on multilingualism and web accessibility. The five thematic pages are colour-coded and serve as gateways to information on those themes.

UN in General

31st Session of the Committee on Information (UN Headquarters, 4-15 May 2009)

Guide on Ratification: International Convention on the Protection of the Rights of All Migrant Workers and Members of their Families (OHCHR)

<http://www.ohchr.org/Documents/Press/HandbookFINAL.PDF>

According to the new guide, "today, some 200 million people live outside their countries of birth or nationality" and that about "90 million migrants – persons living outside their country of origin for three months or more - are economically active, engaged in the world of work". Outside the countries of their nationalities, the international migrants, both men and women, can be particularly vulnerable to abuse and exploitation. The guide promotes and encourages ratification of the Convention and two ILO Conventions on migration and employment and incorporation of these standards into national legislation. The Guide was prepared by the Steering Committee for the Campaign for Ratification of the Migrants Rights Convention. Implementation of Convention is monitored by the Committee on the Protection of the Rights of All Migrant Workers and Members of their Families.
