

UNRIC

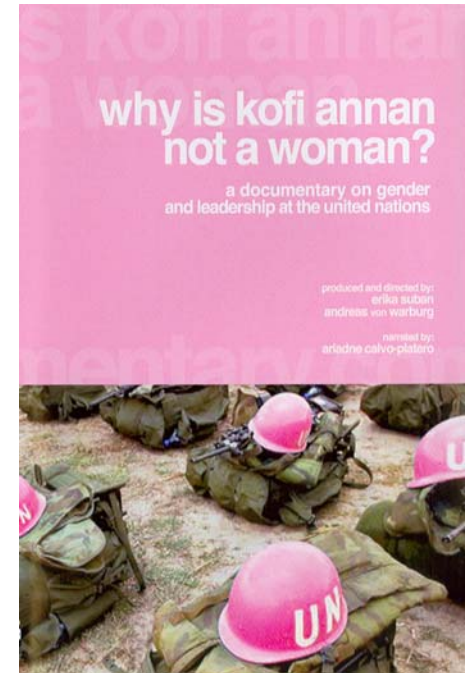

United Nations
Regional Information Centre
for Western Europe

In the lead up to International Women's Day 2008
UNRIC warmly welcomes you to the fifth edition of CINE-ONU, the screening of:

“Why is Kofi Annan not a woman?”

Followed by a discussion with Osnat Lubrani,
Director of UNIFEM Brussels.

About the film:

On Women's Day 2006, Kofi Annan said, “the world is ready for a woman Secretary-General.” However in its 60 year history no woman has yet led the United Nations. “Why is Kofi Annan not a woman?” aims at exploring gender and leadership issues within the United Nations and the advancements made so far within this area.

About Osnat Lubrani:

Osnat Lubrani is the Director of the newly established UNIFEM office in Brussels responsible for UNIFEM's relations with EU institutions and European governments. Ms. Lubrani also concurrently serves as Programme Director for Central and Eastern Europe at UNIFEM. Previously she helped set up and manage the United Nations Trust Fund to End Violence against Women.

Time and place:

Wednesday 27 February 2008, from 18.00 to 20.00

Polak room, Ground floor, Résidence Palace, Rue de la Loi 155, Brussels 1040. (Metro Station: Schuman)

Entrance: free.

We kindly ask you to register by replying to: poulet@unric.org by Tuesday 26 February

RÉSIDENCE PALACE, RUE DE LA LOI/WETSTRAAT, BRUSSELS

